USA jazz legend Warren Vache has been astounding audiences worldwide for decades with his masterful improvisations and superb cornet, trumpet and flugelhorn stylings.

His playing has been described as lyrical, daring, warm and exciting. He has performed and recorded with such luminaries as Benny Goodman, Rosemary Clooney, Benny Carter, Hank Jones, Gerry Mulligan, Woody Herman, Ruby Braff and Bobby Short to name but a few.

This is a rare opportunity to hear a master of his craft and regarded as one of the most lyrical performers in the jazz world. Coupling a beautiful tone with a chance-taking style, Warren utilizes the complete range of the jazz vocabulary.

"Every chorus he plays is like a lesson in the history of the trumpet."
(Pianist and composer Jim McNeely).

The list of Vache's collaborations is a virtual "Who's who" in Jazz, spanning every style in the history of the music - Phil Woods, Jon Faddis, Tony Coe, Richard Wyands, Bill Charlap, the Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra and more

He has performed at every major jazz venue and festival throughout the globe from club dates at Condon's and the Blue Note to the Newport Jazz Festival, the North Sea Jazz Festival and Perugia in Italy, including concerts at Carnegie Hall, Lincoln Center, The Vienna Opera, and the Royal Festival Hall in London.
